Patrick Henry High School Volleys Pink

The Patrick Henry High School volleyball team is playing a pink game this year to raise breast cancer awareness. All attendees of the game will be wearing pink, while both Patrick Henry {host team} and Bryan {visiting team} volleyball players will also be wearing special pink/white jerseys. Additional activities include special raffles and pink t-shirt sales to help raise funds and awareness for breast health. It is also a special night for our Patrick Henry team, as we will be honoring all the parents of the volleyball team.

The Pink Game will be held at Patrick Henry High School on Tuesday, September 18, 2007. The freshman game starts at 4:30 pm followed by junior varsity at 6:00 pm. The Varsity game will begin about 7:00 pm. T-shirts will cost $5.00 with $1.00 proceeds going to Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure. To order shirts, contact Patrick Henry High School during school hours at 419-274-3015.

VOLLEYBALL FOR THE CURE was created as a way to honor and celebrate the heroic fights against breast cancer by friends Marcy Kanter and Ellen Ganson. These two define the true meaning of being a champion in every way. This event was dedicated to all men and women who have been touched by breast cancer with the hope that this devastating disease will one day be cured. It was started last year through a collaboration between Loveland and Sycamore High Schools' volleyball teams to convert a regular varsity match into a breast cancer awareness event, in honor of a friend with breast cancer.

With approval from the OHSAA, the players and referees wore custom pink shirts and the teams were allowed to fabricate a special "halftime" which consisted of funny games with fan involvement. Over 900 pink t-shirts were sold in advance and discounted admission was offered to anyone wearing pink (students were free, adults paid $4 vs. the normal $6).

The Komen Northwest Ohio Affiliate serves the counties of Allen, Auglaize, Defiance, Erie, Fulton, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Lucas, Mercer, Ottawa, Paulding, Putnam, Sandusky, Van Wert, Williams, Wood and Monroe, MI.

Breast cancer knows no boundaries, be it age, gender, socio-economic status or geographic location.

Funds and excitement were also raised through a bake sale, raffle and split-the-pot tickets. The event was publicized with the help of local media, school announcements, signs, banners, and emails. The schools buzzed with pink on game day as the players, students and staff wore pink and pink decorations hung throughout the halls.

Attendance exceeded 1000 fans (vs. the normal 50-75) and over $4000 was raised for breast cancer research. Enthusiasm to host VOLLEYBALL FOR THE CURE next year immediately followed. Not to be overlooked, Sycamore took in $700 in ticket sales vs. the usual $100 per home volleyball game. This year, the OHSAA has challenged each high school in Ohio that plays interscholastic volleyball – 800 teams - to dedicate one home game to promote breast cancer education, awareness and fundraising. The 14th Annual Susan G. Komen Northwest Ohio Race for the Cure® will take place on Sunday, September 30, 2007, in downtown Toledo. The run/walk ends with a celebration and ceremony at Fifth Third Field, along with the third annual Kids Run for the Cure.

To register for the Race go to www.komennwohio.org.

Nancy G. Brinker promised her dying sister, Susan G. Komen, she would do everything in her power to end breast cancer forever. In 1982 that promise became Susan G. Komen for the Cure and launched the global breast cancer movement. Today, Komen for the Cure is the world's largest grassroots network of breast cancer survivors and activists fighting to save lives, empower people, ensure quality care for all and energize science to find the cures. Thanks to events like the Komen Race for the Cure, we have invested nearly $1 billion to fulfill our promise, becoming the largest source of nonprofit funds dedicated to the fight against breast cancer in the world.

The national sponsors of The Race include Yoplait, American Airlines, Coldwater Creek, Ford, Energizer, New Balance, Quilted Northern Ultra, SunChips, RE/MAX and Zeta Tau Alpha.
